No so much! He wanted to jump in while we were interviewing Lisa, but not sure Andrea is arranging that.

Also, Heather has asked that we look at her calendar, which we can't do from here. I am about to head to the airport, but if you could let Zac (cc'd) know what is possible for this week, he can get that scheduled.

Thanks!

What is 18F:

18F is a digital consultancy inside the GSA. We're all federal employees, coming from both the private and public sector, who are working with other agencies to help them with large IT systems.

What we are doing? What is Discovery?

Whenever we start working on a new project, we begin with a process called "Discovery." In this phase, we discover and answer questions so we can determine both the best ways to work with you, and also what is going to be the most helpful. We've read a lot of documentation, but conducting primary research (interviewing stakeholders) is critical.

Why we want to talk to you?

We're focused initially on Internet Data Collection, and we had a fantastic kickoff with John Studd's and his team. But we want to make sure we hear and understand every perspective, not just the technical ones. So even if you aren't directly working on Internet Data Collection, we value your perspective and your expertise in your domain, and it's important to us to make sure your voice is heard.

Hi Jack,

I put this doc together to convey some of the info that you're seeking. If you still have some questions, happy to set up a brief chat to address them and to gain a better understanding of what you need.

Chris -

I apologize that I have some uncertainty on my end - what level of effort and work is 18f and/or Clint able to provide to John Studds for Primus as part of the IAA through the FY ?

I sense we need a call with John and whoever soon.

With the latest info I received yesterday regarding April-May-June invoicing, I show a approx. $650 K remaining on the IAA. Less the imminent $ 480 K de-ob, leaving $ 170 K.

However, that is for the entire IAA not just CEDCaP/Primus. I don't have detailed visibility into the amount remaining on the CEDCaP/Primus work for John and his team.

Thanks.

While we're planning to staff Clint on TSA, he's still available to wrap-up any remaining Census work.

Hello all,

I'm emailing to check on the status of our engagement.

I know that we've been working on extending it.

- Do we have an answer yet about obligated $$?

- How much of my time (per week, and for how many weeks) will you want?

I'm asking this because as of yesterday I've also been staffed on a TSA project.

I think I have some autonomy here, and I would like to finish what we started with Census if possible.

My first step is to see if I can match the Census and TSA timelines in a way that lets me do both.

Thanks,

Clint

Brandon:

Going by the info in this attachment that Chris sent, it looks like we are good for you and Kane to continue 1/2 time for this month and Sept...but they only have Clint down for 100 hours, which is about 50 hours short of full time. However, even burning this, the spread shows a surplus. So my take by their calculations is that we are ok. Do you concur or am I missing it?

Hi Jack,

I put this doc together to convey some of the info that you're seeking. If you still have some questions, happy to set up a brief chat to address them and to gain a better understanding of what you need.

On Thu, Aug 18, 2016 at 9:54 AM, John C Leidich (CENSUS/ADITCIO FED) <John.C.Leidich@census.gov> wrote:

I sense we need a call with John and whoever soon.

With the latest info I received yesterday regarding April-May-June invoicing, I show a approx. $650 K remaining on the IAA. Less the imminent $ 480 K de-ob, leaving $ 170 K.

However, that is for the entire IAA not just CEDCaP/Primus. I don't have detailed visibility into the amount remaining on the CEDCaP/Primus work for John and his team.

Thanks.

Thanks, Kane. We'll be sure to track the burn given the remaining balance after the de-ob.

While we're planning to staff Clint on TSA, he's still available to wrap-up any remaining Census work.

Hey folks,

The deobligation only left enough funds for the three of us working until the end of July. Brandon and I trimmed the work we were doing in July towards the technical test to ensure there was more funding for Clint to continue on autoscaling and alternative db testing. My sense is there is only a couple weeks and we will run out of money this month. This is pretty rapidly becoming a mute point since Clint is being pulled into other client work. Devops experts are in high demand.

(b) (6) So, Brandon can try to confirm that with Chris and company how much money is left for his wrap up.

Hello all,

I'm emailing to check on the status of our engagement.

I know that we've been working on extending it.

- Do we have an answer yet about obligated $$?

- How much of my time (per week, and for how many weeks) will you want?

I'm asking this because as of yesterday I've also been staffed on a TSA project.

I think I have some autonomy here, and I would like to finish what we started with Census if possible.

Folder: _____

My first step is to see if I can match the Census and TSA timelines in a way that lets me do both.

Thanks,
Clint

Hi Ken and Barbara, I need your help with something please. The Census Bureau has entered into an Interagency Agreement for consulting services with 18F at the General Services Administration. I am the point person for this IAA. Below is some information the 18F group has provided about their work. One of the projects they will help with is the Internet solution that is part of CEDCaP. They are in the discovery part of this engagement. They've already met with John and his team for several hours recently and they're excited to be working with the 18F group. As part of their discovery, the 18F folks would like to talk to you for about an hour either December 9 or the week of December 14 based on your availability. They're also talking to other folks at the CB including Nancy, Harry and Ken Boyd/CSVD folks. I thought because of the infrastructure work you all are undertaking they should chat with you too. I've cc'd the two 18F staff persons I've been working with since they will reach out directly to schedule the meeting. If you have any questions, give me a call. Thanks in advance for your help.

What is 18F:

18F is a digital consultancy inside the GSA. We're all federal employees, coming from both the private and public sector, who are working with other agencies to help them with large IT systems.

What we are doing? What is Discovery?

Whenever we start working on a new project, we begin with a process called "Discovery." In this phase, we discover and answer questions so we can determine both the best ways to work with you, and also what is going to be the most helpful. We've read a lot of documentation, but conducting primary research (interviewing stakeholders) is critical.

Why we want to talk to you?

We're focused initially on Internet Data Collection, and we had a fantastic kickoff with John Studd's and his team. But we want to make sure we hear and understand every perspective, not just the technical ones. So even if you aren't directly working on Internet Data Collection, we value your perspective and your expertise in your domain, and it's important to us to make sure your voice is heard.

SWG stops open source and non-legacy software. SDLC (which is comprised of 6+ boards) stops all development movement. Requires everything to go through board of non-technical people to make uninformed decisions.

They have entire support contracts set up just to shepherd things through all the various "phase gates" and documentation.

Subject: Re: Heads Up 18F Schedule A Support Services

Thanks for sending out the initial email Justin.

For those that don't know, the CB has been talking with the folks at the General Services Administrations 18F organization about services they offer. Here's some info from their site: "18F is a team of top-notch designers, developers, and product specialists inside the General Services Administration, headquartered at 18 and F streets in Washington, D.C. 18F is a civic consultancy for the government, inside the government, enabling agencies to rapidly deploy tools and services that are easy to operate, cost efficient, and reusable. We are transforming government from the inside out, creating cultural change by working with teams inside agencies who want to create great services for the public. " Some links: <https://18f.gsa.gov/> and <https://18f.gsa.gov/2015/12/01/how-we-dramatically-improved-18fs-onboarding-process-in-3-months/>

They are already providing consulting services here at the CB working with John Studds on the Interent project. Besides their consulting services, they also provide recruiting services to other agencies too focused on recruiting high-caliber IT resources. 18F has utilized a schedule A hiring authority to quickly fill their IT type positions. The 2020 directorate and the ITD have been thinking about using these services to fill some IT position. Below is more info on their recruiting services. We're still examining the costs/benefits because they do charge a fee for each position filled so we need to get a handle on the possible workload, separated out by 2020 and non-2020. This is the reason for the data call. I know that some folks may not be interested in using the service because of the fee. Even if you may not use this service, we'd still like to get info on the possible Schedule A hire positions because the CB could pursue this hiring through our own existing Schedule A authority (which is quicker than the traditional method) without the bells and whistles that come with the 18F involvement.

My ask: by COB Friday the 11th, please send me the following info. I'm asking for total IT resource needs that we might use for this hiring authority but then also "high priority" meaning of the total, if we had to limit usage because of the fee what are your high priority positions that you'd like to fill through this process?

Organization Name
Total possible Schedule A hires for 2020 funded positions
Total possible Schedule A hires for non-2020 funded positions
High priority 2020 Schedule A positions
High priority non-2020 Schedule positions

Hello all:

I meant to raise this yesterday, but we had a fairly packed agenda.

Just a heads up that 2020 and ITD have engaged 18F to explore their Schedule A hiring services. Patty McGuire will be reaching out shortly with a data call to try to get a handle on our collective needs.

Thanks!

Rebecca,

Our concern in policy with the contractors is ensuring that they are sworn-in, take the necessary training, and ensure data security. As for the level of security clearances required, please speak with staff in OIS, perhaps consulting with Tim Ruland about how they handle IT contractors.

So I am trying to figure out if maybe I am missing something and OIS/PCO has already gone through all this and decided that we didn't need to go through the CHEC office for SSS? Or maybe because these companies are FEDRAMP certified that means something to the CHEC office and we just need to get them on the same page? Or is it truly we need to clear them at one of the levels of risk, and if so what level?

Hi Brock,

To follow up on our conversation from yesterday, would you be available to have a call around AWS compliance? It would be beneficial to know whether our security and compliance procedures would satisfy the requirement and supplant obtaining Special Sworn Status. Please let me know if this is possible.

Thanks!

(b) (6) that would be great. I was sending a message to Brett McMillen when yours arrived.

I have a staff meeting @1400 Thursday... would another time be possible?

If you have a few minutes, I can explain the details and put it into context. That would actually help the conversation greatly.

Thanks! Brock

I'm fairly positive the newly created IAA with the Software Engineering Institute FFRDC is similarly here with visitor passes without having been cleared by CHEC, and are sitting through in-depth technical discussions with both Census and vendor companies, so I don't quite understand what the hold up could be in this instance.

Yes we've had some backups with our clearance process for reasons.

I've CC'ed some of our other folks internally to see if there's anything we can do internally to help move it along beyond offering moral support.

All,

As you are probably aware, there's been some delay with granting our 18F resources Census security clearances. Per the thread below, for financial reasons, we need to deploy our consultants on other billable projects for roughly the next four weeks. We'll be ready to start the engagement the week of Nov 16, assuming the clearances are granted by then.

Ok, thanks for the follow-up.

I had a discussion with Kane after you two chatted, and we're going to release the Census resources on other projects until the week of Nov 16. Hopefully by then the clearances will come through.

Hi Patricia, just following-up to see what the security clearance status is? If there isn't a firm ETA yet, then what I propose is setting a start date 3-5 weeks from now so that I allocate the Census resources to other projects for a consistent period.

Patricia,

Per our phone conversation, I'm concerned with the potential length of the Census security clearance to authorize the 18F personnel to begin work. We're a fee-driven organization, so not being able to begin work for 2-4 weeks presents some financial risk for us. Unlike contractors, we don't generate a profit on our engagements, which means we can't readily absorb overhead costs and still stay in the black.

If you could be kind enough to expedite the clearance, or worst case, provide a firm ETA, that would help with my ability to manage allocation of resources. Thank you!

Last one...I promise...

CTO/Booz/etc. love Oracle...SWG decided to standardize on Oracle as the ESB for CedCap and everything else...

I spent months battling with them because I know enough about tech to be a pain in the ass (and I read about healthcare.gov and cover oregon and all the other terrible Oracle SOA implementations)

The case that I keep harping about saying what they're doing is illegal is

On October 29, 2010, Google, Inc. and Onix Networking Corporation, a licensed vendor of Google products and solutions (hereinafter collectively "Google"), filed a pre-award bid protest in the United States Court of Federal Claims, challenging an August 30, 2010 Request for Quotation No. 503786 (the "RFQ") by the Department of the Interior ("Interior" or "DOI") to provide "hosted email and collaboration services and [Interior's] supporting 'Limited Source Justification.'" Compl. ¶ 1-2.

On July 15, 2010, the Assistant Secretary-Policy, Management, and Budget signed a "Determination and Findings," establishing Microsoft's Business Productivity Online Suite-Federal as "the Department-wide standard for Messaging and Collaboration." AR 748-56. On that same date, the Assistant Secretary-Policy, Management, and Budget also signed a separate "Determination and Findings," establishing Microsoft Desktop and Service Software as the "Department-wide standard for computer operating, system desktop and service, office automation, and systems management software." AR 757-62.

Both July 15, 2010 Standardization "Determination and Findings" are quintessential "non-competitive procedure[s]," that must be justified by the "contracting officer." 41 U.S.C. § 253(f)(1)(A). In addition, since these Standardization "Determinations and Findings" concern an amount exceeding $50 million (AR 753), they require the additional approval of "the senior procurement executive of the agency." 41 U.S.C. § 253(f)(1)(B)(iii) (emphasis added).

In addition, neither Standardization "Determination and Findings" is accompanied by a proper justification or appropriate approvals. To the extent the Standardization "Determination and Findings" were intended to substitute for a justification, several deficiencies are apparent. First, neither document identifies the "statutory authority permitting other than full and open competition." FAR 6.303-2(a)(4) (emphasis added).

*Second, the "anticipated cost" discussion (AR 753-54) contains no estimate of internal agency cost, e.g., Project Management Office and Independent Verification and Validation costs that apparently will be the subject of a "separate procurement." AR 767. More importantly, there is no consideration or discussion about the more significant embedded costs associated with what [REDACTED] described in a March 16, 2010 report as the cost of "organizational lock-in . . . making alternative [products] difficult to use." AR 647. In the context of describing "organizational lock-in" regarding Microsoft Office products, [REDACTED] specifically stated that: [REDACTED]. Hi Nicky,
I met with Curtis earlier and he said you would be able to pull together the documentation to help me.

Basically:
AMSD requested some market research into Oracle pricing.
I asked them for a justification for why we were going to Oracle (see details on why we need it in my initial message to Cathy at the bottom of this string).
Cathy advised that she needs to buy oracle products based on direction from CTO division.
Curtis said this direction probably came based on the EA and the SWG and you could provide the information we need.

My request is for your help in filling out the attached document so that I can move forward with the buy.
I'd be happy to meet if you have any questions. Thanks!

Randy

Subject: Oracle Buy - Request for Brand Name Justification

Cathy/Michael,

Believe me the last thing I want to do is burden you all with unnecessary paperwork. Unfortunately in order for me to procure any products specific to a brand name, I need to document the file.

The legal requirement comes from FAR Part 6.3, which I am required to follow before I can issue an order:

http://www.acquisition.gov/far/html/Subpart%206\_3.html

Specifically:

(c) Application for brand name descriptions. An acquisition that uses a brand name description or other purchase description to specify a particular brand name, product, or feature of a product, peculiar to one manufacturer does not provide for full and open competition regardless of the number of sources solicited. It shall be justified and approved in accordance with FAR 6.303 and 6.304. The justification should indicate that the use of such descriptions in the acquisition is essential to the Government's requirements, thereby precluding consideration of a product manufactured by another company. See 5.102\(a\)\(6\) for the requirement to post the brand name justification. (Brand-name or equal descriptions, and other purchase descriptions that permit prospective contractors to offer products other than those specifically referenced by brand name, provide for full and open competition and do not require justifications and approvals to support their use.)

To try to assist you, I've attached NOAA's template for what needs to be included in the Brand Name Justification. It's got pretty good instructions.

Please don't shoot the messenger - I will be able to make the Oracle buy pretty easily off an existing GSA Contract if I get this information from you all!

If you'd like to discuss, please let me know. Thanks

I will have our HR folks send you the resumes and then when we discuss as a panel on Monday, you can just offer your opinion on the qualifications of each of the applicants. They will send the info electronically today.

Hi Aaron,

Thanks for offering to help. The ask is for you to review the applications and when the review board meets to decide who to send forward for an interview, to give the board your opinion on the technical chops of the applicants as each is considered. It is about a 2 hour meeting and you could phone in. You do need to read the applications in advance, and there are 33 of them. You don't need to worry about the ECQs, just the PTQs (Professional and Technical Quals).

If your schedule fits, is this something you would be willing to do?

We would greatly appreciate your input.

Thanks

Hi Nancy,

18F is small and the only SES is Aaron Snow, our director. I asked him today if he could be part of this board, and he is interested. The bigger problem is location and his time. Interviewing from the GSA building would be workable, but frequent trips to Suitland would be impossible given the demands on his schedule.

I have cc'd him on this email. Hopefully you two can work out a solution.

Best,
Kane

Hi Kane

I hope all is well.

We are getting ready to put our cert together for the CTO position and I thought it would be a good idea to put an SES person from 18F on our Executive Resources Board to evaluate the initial application submissions.

Can you recommend someone I could contact to ask to serve? They have to be in the SES.

Yes, Just tell them at the guard station that you need visitor's parking. Take Gate 5, which is off Silver Hill road.

I am copying my assistant Caryn Tate who can give you more explicit instructions if you need them.

Looking forward to meeting everyone.

Hi Nancy,

I'm writing to touch base about tomorrow's meeting between Census and 18F/USDS.

Chris Cairns (18F) and Charles Worthington (USDS) will be there at 1:30p. Mikey Dickerson (USDS) and I (18F) will be running 15 minute behind due to an unavoidable conflict.

If I drive my own car, will I be able to access visitor's parking?

Thanks so much,
Aaron

Hi Nancy,

It would be good to talk. I know scheduling is probably a hassle with the folks on your side. I have times available peppered throughout most days in a pretty unpredictable manner. If you give me a sense of the timeframe you were thinking of, or a couple time/date options, I am sure we can find a good time. Also, I am making a trip to DC and will be available for in person conversations June 7-9.

We certainly don't want to be an intrusive presence, and wouldn't want to deter open conversation among the participants in any way. Our main interest is in helping the Bureau work through the challenges associated with the intersection of title 13 policy and adoption of a cloud strategy that gets projects like Primus the infrastructure support they need to test and scale effectively. We bring technical knowledge to the table that could help the team with their decisions, and honestly, we don't know what we don't know. We would like to be in as many places as possible so that we can start seeing ways to move the needle.

If this meeting is not a good inroad, let's talk on Friday about how to get 18F more actively involved in important discussions, even in listen-only mode.

Thanks,
Kane

Hi Kane, Sorry so late to reply. It took a while for Kevin to get situated and caught up but I did talk to him. His preference, which I can understand, is to get the CTO on board first and bring that person into the discussions from the beginning. That makes sense, although I expect that we will select CTO who is on the same wavelength with what we are trying to do.

So I will be back in touch but probably after we finish selecting the CTO. If something is going to change drastically on your end, please let me know.

Looking forward to staying in touch in the meantime.

Also, Heather has asked that we look at her calendar, which we can't do from here. I am about to head to the airport, but if you could let Zac (cc'd) know what is possible for this week, he can get that scheduled.

Hi Lisa, Hope all is well. I am writing to you on behalf of the folks at 18F. In case you don't know, we recently put in place an Interagency Agreement for consulting services with a group called 18F at the General Services Administration. Below is some information the 18F group has provided about their work. One of the projects they will help with is the Internet solution that is part of CEDCaP. They are in the discovery part of this engagement. John S and his team have already met with the 18F folks for several hours and they're excited to be working with the 18F group. The 18F group has also met with Nancy Potok and is in the process of talking with other people at the CB as recommended by Nancy and John Studds. As part of their discovery, the 18F folks would like to talk to you for about an hour either based on your availability. I've cc'd Andrea Axtell and the two 18F staff persons I've been working with since they will reach out directly to Andrea to schedule the meeting. If you have any questions, you can give me a call. Thanks in advance for your help.

What is 18F:

18F is a digital consultancy inside the GSA. We're all federal employees, coming from both the private and public sector, who are working with other agencies to help them with large IT systems.

What we are doing? What is Discovery?

Whenever we start working on a new project, we begin with a process called "Discovery." In this phase, we discover and answer questions so we can determine both the best ways to work with you, and also what is going to be the most helpful. We've read a lot of documentation, but conducting primary research (interviewing stakeholders) is critical.

Why we want to talk to you?

We're focused initially on Internet Data Collection, and we had a fantastic kickoff with John Studd's and his team. But we want to make sure we hear and understand every perspective, not just the technical ones. So even if you aren't directly working on Internet Data Collection, we value your perspective and your expertise in your domain, and it's important to us to make sure your voice is heard.

Hey folks,

The deobligation only left enough funds for the three of us working until the end of July. Brandon and I trimmed the work we were doing in July towards the technical test to ensure there was more funding for Clint to continue on autoscaling and alternative db testing. My sense is there is only a couple weeks and we will run out of money this month. This is pretty rapidly becoming a mute point since Clint is being pulled into other client work. Devops experts are in high demand.

(b) (6) So, Brandon can try to confirm that with Chris and company how much money is left for his wrap up.

Hello all,

I'm emailing to check on the status of our engagement.
I know that we've been working on extending it.

- Do we have an answer yet about obligated $$?
- How much of my time (per week, and for how many weeks) will you want?

I'm asking this because as of yesterday I've also been staffed on a TSA project.
I think I have some autonomy here, and I would like to finish what we started with Census if possible.

My first step is to see if I can match the Census and TSA timelines in a way that lets me do both.

Thanks,
Clint

Clint,

Thanks for the followup.

I was working through the primus needs and funding and was unable to close it all off this week by the response time you requested which was today.

I have a few meetings early next week to iron it out. Is this too late?

Hello all,

I'm emailing to check on the status of our engagement.

I know that we've been working on extending it.

- Do we have an answer yet about obligated $$?

- How much of my time (per week, and for how many weeks) will you want?

I'm asking this because as of yesterday I've also been staffed on a TSA project.

I think I have some autonomy here, and I would like to finish what we started with Census if possible.

My first step is to see if I can match the Census and TSA timelines in a way that lets me do both.

Thanks,

Clint

Hi Kevin,

Hope your first day is going great. The people I talked to last week were all looking forward to your arrival.

I will be back in DC, at Census, the last week of July with Brandon Kirby, the deputy engagement lead for this project. It would be great to meet with you to talk about how things are wrapping up with our work on Internet Data Collection (Primus) and also to see if there is anything else that 18F can do to ensure a successful decennial.

Related to possible next steps Jay Finch the Director of Agency Partnerships at 18F and Dan Kenny who works closely with him are on this thread and are eager to connect.

Let me know if you will have time available in the July 26-28 timeframe.

There are no other places where we're tracking the financials.

In other news, I have never gone into any 18F financial tracking tool so am generally unaware on that front.

Hey folks,

The deobligation only left enough funds for the three of us working until the end of July. Brandon and I trimmed the work we were doing in July towards the technical test to ensure there was more funding for Clint to continue on autoscaling and alternative db testing. My sense is there is only a couple weeks and we will run out of money this month. This is pretty rapidly becoming a mute point since Clint is being pulled into other client work. Devops experts are in high demand.

(b) (6)

So, Brandon can try to confirm that with Chris and company how much money is left for his wrap up.

Hi John, Stephanie,

Patty and John have asked to deobligate money from this portion of the IAA, and it looks like 18F is deobligating more than Census asked for. We need to spin down the project in earnest.

Chris -

I apologize that I have some uncertainty on my end - what level of effort and work is 18f and/or Clint able to provide to John Studds for Primus as part of the IAA through the FY ?

I sense we need a call with John and whoever soon.

With the latest info I received yesterday regarding April-May-June invoicing, I show a approx. $650 K remaining on the IAA. Less the imminent $ 480 K de-ob, leaving $ 170 K.

However, that is for the entire IAA not just CEDCaP/Primus. I don't have detailed visibility into the amount remaining on the CEDCaP/Primus work for John and his team.

Thanks.

Thanks, Kane. We'll be sure to track the burn given the remaining balance after the de-ob.

While we're planning to staff Clint on TSA, he's still available to wrap-up any remaining Census work.

Hey folks,

The deobligation only left enough funds for the three of us working until the end of July. Brandon and I trimmed the work we were doing in July towards the technical test to ensure there was more funding for Clint to continue on autoscaling and alternative db testing. My sense is there is only a couple weeks and we will run out of money this month. This is pretty rapidly becoming a mute point since Clint is being pulled into other client work. Devops experts are in high demand.

Hello all,

I'm emailing to check on the status of our engagement.

I know that we've been working on extending it.

- Do we have an answer yet about obligated $$?

- How much of my time (per week, and for how many weeks) will you want?

I'm asking this because as of yesterday I've also been staffed on a TSA project.

I think I have some autonomy here, and I would like to finish what we started with Census if possible.

My first step is to see if I can match the Census and TSA timelines in a way that lets me do both.

Thanks,

Clint

Hi John,

The first thing Carolyn would like to do is some usability testing of the existing app. We don't want to work with the production survey.census.gov app because that will corrupt data.

Is it possible to get a version of the app up and running off a separate branch in Primus? I was thinking this should be in the data center to get an appropriate domain name, but am game to have Clint spin up an instance available via your AWS.

Thoughts?

I have talked to Harry and Jack a bunch of times now about VPN access for your team. Feels like the winds might be turning.

This ask is in the same vein. What access we can get we can pass on to the team (possibly after a lot of pushing).

Hi Harry, Jack,

I am writing you because this is getting pretty out of hand.

Let's keep in mind that 18F is trying to provide a test infrastructure so that Census will know the true capabilities of the Primus database and application. Moving towards 2020 without this kind of testing is a terrible gamble. This infrastructure will host no title 13 data.

Clint is trying really hard to make this work, but the ask is profoundly simple and the workaround is a terrible solution that adds no discernable security advantages.

How can we get him basic credentials for working with your AWS account? Both VDI and a loaner laptop are terrible ideas.

Hopeful that you can change this conversation,

Thanks for all the thoughts Ahmed.

I think that if I can get VDI Access to AWS, and then I can set up a myIAM user and get a AWS_ACCESS_KEY and AWS_SECRET_KEY for this user -- then perhaps I can use those tokens from my local laptop -> Census AWS.

I won't really know until I try.

Thanks Ahmad,

I'll summarize from my point of view:

Folder:

I need VDI access in order to log into the Census AWS console.

After accessing AWS via VDI I should be able to generate credentials, and use those credentials to terraform(programmatically create infrastructure) from my local computer while it is connected to the VPN.

Another way to give you access is using VDI remote access, I need Census managers to decide if we can give you VDI access or not

Hey John,

Clint is ready to jump in and start creating all the automation steps that Adrian and Mike suggested last week ... as soon as he gets AWS credentials.

We are going to be pretty quickly stuck though without either:

- 1) VPN access to get to the centurion github - or-
- 2) Primus and friends moved to the public github

Even if we figure out a way to get the public github very quickly, we will run into issues connecting to the ESB for testing.

How do you suggest we make the VPN connection happen? Any other suggestions?

I would like to get the product workshop for June on your schedule and also talk about who should be there. About a dozen people is ideal and I would really like to include OII and any other folks that are writing stories close to the Primus team.

Hi Tim,

I talked to Clint, the 18F team member working through the test infrastructure. He says we can get an IP which will be good for whitelisting. Unfortunately, he doesn't yet have access to the Census test AWS account in order to set that up.

Once we provide an IP, the VPN will need to allow access to:

- The enterprise Centurion github

- The testing/staging version of the ESB in order to test sending message

When we got VPN access to Census, we were unable to install the code because our VPN blocked access to npm.org and github.com, both of which had open source tools used by Primus. We had to get another configuration that allowed greater, but not full access. That is probably something we should look ahead on.

Who should we start this process with once Clint as AWS credentials and is able to get you a static IP

Hi Primus People,

I am putting together a workshop targeting the dates: May 3rd and 4th. I wanted to check in with folks and figure out who is interested in attending and whether you can get free these days.

Things I want to cover in the workshop:

Folder:

techniques for getting simpler, easier to change code single responsibility and dependency injection as it related to node the testing pyramid, unit to accpetance command/query distinction and testing

I was planning on using Primus code an an example ... except that we can't get in on to your laptops ... so I am trying to figure out what to code we can do instead, stay tuned. The design stuff will mostly be about nodejs, but we will likely cover the weird stuff related to testing angular.

Please chime in with your interest or let me know if this time frame is impossible. Other days that week are also possible.

John, we will need a conference room with AV that lets us project from a Mac. Possible?

Thanks, --

Sorry, stephanie, wanted to include a link in that first sentence: <https://github.com/cucumber/cucumber/wiki/Gherkin>

It's hard to get to writing stories this way without a guide, and it looks like you are headed in that direction.

Also, I was talking to John about a product/story focused workshop in early June. I will come up with dates soon.

When we were talking I was thinking that it should be just his team, in order to focus on just one product idea. But how many people do you have working on stories there? Might be good to make a workshop that everyone could participate in.

FYI, for both of you, I was thinking of two days.

Interesting.

Hey, I have a great product person that will likely be able to travel the same time I will be in town next April 12-14. We would like to do a workshop where we get the team, product and dev, together to hammer through stories, process etc.

He is a great resource, so tell me sooner than later if we can get the team together on those days for a workshop.

We can for sure put together a UX review type of a thing, but UX is a part of every story/feature and you need someone with that on your team full time. It's not like lipstick that goes on at the end.

I will set up an appointment to meet in person the Census UX person I am in touch with. We have some UX people who can jump in if we need them, but probably won't start full force until we have someone on the Census side to setup and train. Let's figure out what you need when we meet next week.

I will probably be sitting in your team's area when I am not in meetings. So you can grab me when you see me, or we can setup times everyday to talk. Your choice.

Also, can we get the js-product person you may have sourced started? Would be great to meet with them.

Hi Jack,

Most of the 18F people engaged in this project are strategists first and specialists in an area of technology second. Our work on Primus is driven by assessing impact and risk, as strategists. The ESB is high risk technology for Primus, and so this ESB discussion is part of our Primus scope.

Thanks for getting Brandon introduced to Cathy, and we can talk more about 18F scope and role in our weekly meeting next week.

Thanks,
Kane

Indeed, we had a great database conversation last week with Scott, Chris, and Brian. As Kane says, the ESB came up repeatedly, and we've heard a few different stories about the messaging that will be in place for Primus/Centurion.

Can you recommended someone who can talk to us about the status of messaging and if/when/how it might change?

As we think with you about the ideal Primus database, I'd like to fully understand the upstream/downstream dependencies. Appreciate you pointing us in the right direction!

OK, with that in mind I would still refer you to the link below to get an overview of the SDLC process (our governance "map"). I can also provide a link to our ISSRO Wiki page that has all of our PM procedures detailed and documented. The attachment is an outline of the procedures we are to follow.

As far as what more needs to be done for the 2016 CT instrument development, let me take a stab at outlining the major activities:

- complete the development of the survey instrument in a stable Cloud environment.
- User Acceptance Testing
- Usability Testing
- Performance testing
- Penetration testing
- Completion of the independent Security Assessment (leading to our Authority to Operate (ATO))
- Installation and verification of the application in the Cloud production environment
- Failover testing

Hope this helps-

Sorry for the late response, but things have been pretty busy here. Not sure exactly what you are looking for here. We generally follow the Census Bureau SDLC Process which is laid down in guidance documents by our SDLC CoE at the below link (not sure if you have access or not).

As far as what more needs to be done, I'll need a bit more clarity from you. What aspect of the project are you speaking of specifically? We have several major deliverables (2015 COS/ASM (SU) Test, 2016 Census Test, 2016 COS/ASM (SU & MU) Test, and 2016 Refile) that are in different stages of their development.

Let me know-

Hey John,

We are trying to start work ... but governance, which is part of our work. So we have had to start there, to get the tools we need.

So, two things we need from you:

1) Can you harass Patty to establish a point of contact? I think there are some people she is thinking of, but we haven't heard from her. I am emailing her, but you are in the same building. So, if you push her to delegate that work, we will be all the better for getting things done from the inside.

2) Can you document, or find someone (PM) to document the governance processes that Primus has had to go through so far? And what it still needs to do? I am looking for details down to dates and times of meetings so we can document how much time your team is working on this instead of software.

Hi John,

Progress:

We talked to Avi about our discovery plan and have scheduled out around 9 interviews so far. We expect those to fan out for a second round of interviews. Zac will be on site at the Census the week of the 7th, and I will be there the Dec 15th-17th.

We need:

The application source code. We are ready to start looking at it and want to be informed.

Architecture diagrams and the reduced process flow diagram that you showed us

Data schemas/entity relationship diagram

ORM details (which we will probably get from the package.json, but sooner is good for our research too)

EBS info and the nodejs adapter/module used to connect to it.

Requirements docs for the upcoming test:

The original topic based requirements that you received

The new amended person based requirements

Org Chart or responsibilities breakdown for your team that includes contact info.

Upcoming Experiments:

We know that you aren't allowed to do video, but wanted to see if we can sneak through some "collaboration" software to make remote work easier.

I will send you an invitation for:

appear.in a meeting collaboration tool

screenhero, a screensharing collaboration app designed for coding together

Also, can you get your credentials for the test AWS universe together? We are going to exercise them, if they are available to use!

Scheduling:

Alan, Brandon and I will be at Census the 15th-17th. We would love to spend as much of that time with your team as possible. Becky who you met and is a data design/data science expert is going to be remote and we will call her into our conversations.

Next week we would like to talk to everyone on your team as part of the listening tour. See contact information above ^.

Next week we should also start with those tech experiments to see what we can do remotely.

Looking forward to the next two weeks!

Attached you will find a zip file (primus_source.zip) containing the 3 repositories used to run Primus, The most important of these is the repository, 'primus-master'. This source was pulled directly from the repository's head and contains actively developed (buggy) code. We can provide one of our more stable release builds to you, however, I'm assuming you will want the most temporally relevant resources.

There is another zip file attached (primus_architecture.zip), that goes over the basic architecture of the application. These are just grabs from the slide deck from the initial presentation.

I created a basic diagram of the database tables, file: primus_db.vsd

ORM details (which we will probably get from the package.json, but sooner is good for our research too)

The ORM currently used for Primus is called Sequelize. However, since the beginning of Primus, we have kept the interface complexity of the database layer to a minimum. This is because we have not yet decided on a technology that best suits our needs and we didn't want to require a rewrite if we switched to a NoSQL solution.

EBS info and the nodejs adapter/module used to connect to it.

I'm assuming that it should be 'ESB' here, instead of 'EBS'. We created a interface layer between the ESB and Centurion called Cursus. Currently the source code is not included in this email. I can go into more detail and supply resources, if this is in-fact the object of this inquiry.

Best,

Scott O'Neal

Hi John,

Progress:

We talked to Avi about our discovery plan and have scheduled out around 9 interviews so far. We expect those to fan out for a second round of interviews. Zac will be on site at the Census the week of the 7th, and I will be there the Dec 15th-17th.

We need:

- The application source code. We are ready to start looking at it and want to be informed.
- Architecture diagrams and the reduced process flow diagram that you showed us

Upcoming Experiments:

We know that you aren't allowed to do video, but wanted to see if we can sneak through some "collaboration" software to make remote work easier.

I will send you an invitation for:

- appear.in a meeting collaboration tool
- screenhero, a screensharing collaboration app designed for coding together

Also, can you get your credentials for the test AWS universe together? We are going to exercise them, if they are available to use!

Scheduling:

Alan, Brandon and I will be at Census the 15th-17th. We would love to spend as much of that time with your team as possible. Becky who you met and is a data design/data science expert is going to be remote and we will call her into our conversations.

Next week we would like to talk to everyone on your team as part of the listening tour. See contact information above ^.

Next week we should also start with those tech experiments to see what we can do remotely.

Looking forward to the next two weeks!

Hi Kane, sorry for the latency in response. I got sucked into a rather urgent project here at Census last minute and every bit of spare time I've had since the New Year began I've spent on my PhD experiment and my obligations as a TA. It's been a whirlwind. Anyway, if you still would like to talk user experience, I'd love to chat sometime. At our lab currently, we're working on research to develop mobile design standards for mobile surveys and data tools. What is the Primus project?

Hope the New Year has been treating you well!

Thanks for the introduction, Logan, and moving you to bcc to save your inbox.

We just finished up a discovery sprint about the Primus project, and we start work on the Primus project in earnest in a couple weeks. It would be great to connect with you then to talk UX.

Thanks Logan! Nice to hear from you. And nice to be introduced to you, Kane. If you'd ever like to meet up or chat about UX, I'd be happy to arrange something. Hope you both have a great holiday season!

Hi Misa,

It's been a while, I know, but I was talking to some of the folks from 18F yesterday and they asked me if I knew anyone in the UX lab who understood the importance of customer feedback and the need for more at the Bureau, so here I am introducing you.

Misa, meet Kane. Kane, Misa. Misa gets it. She's smart and full of good ideas, don't be scared though, she's also much less fire-hosey than I am 😊

Happy Holidays,

Logan
